MIND THE MOLD!

When Alvar Aalto designed the Savoy he carved the shape inside a wooden piece. The mold is the design piece that the designer saw fit to his idea. The mold is the piece of design that came first. The vase is only the result. After the mold was used the piece of design was burnt to unveil the vase inside. The mold is a piece of design that goes away with every process, lost every time. To give the mold the importance it deserves, keep the vase inside, don't unveil it. Give light to the mold, celebrate its own life.
